A message from your president:

Greetings to the Penn State Dairymen’s Club!

As I gather my thoughts for this message, this quote from Winston Churchill strikes my heart, “We make a living by what we get but we make a life by what we give.” How can we make a life by helping to give back through the Penn State Dairymen’s Club? Here are my suggestions from my point of view.

• Invite a friend or family member to join the Dairymen’s Club or give a membership as a gift. New in 2015 is the return of the lifetime membership. New members can choose either a yearly membership at $15 per year or a lifetime membership at a one-time payment of $100.

• Buy an extra milk bottle for a friend, family member, or a special PSU student. They make great gifts. The 2015 bottle commemorates the 150th Anniversary of the Penn State Creameries, with special recognition to our current Berkey Creamery. We will be running our “buy any 3 milk bottles for $15 each and get a 4th one free” sale through November. I’d just like to remind you that the proceeds from our bottles go to the Penn State Endowment fund for student scholarships.

• Reconnect with those best friends from college at a Dairymen’s event. Select your favorite event and make it an annual reunion.

• Bring your friends and family to support Penn State Dairymen’s Club events as well as the Dairy Science Club members at their activities. WE ARE the alumni group of the Dairy Science Club. They already know that they are receiving a world class education from Penn State University. Let’s show them what a great industry and organization they will be joining after graduation.

• Volunteer to serve on the Board of Directors. You don’t have to wait to be asked to be put on the ballot. Please let us know if you would be willing to serve in this position. We are always in need of enthusiastic volunteers.

• Suggest new activities or fund raisers for the endowment fund. This is your organization and we would love to hear from you.

As I’ve shared my thoughts about giving back, I also hope you have a happy and successful harvest season in whatever occupation you are employed. I leave you with this parting thought, “Volunteers are not paid, not because they are worthless, but because they are priceless.” (Author unknown.)

For the Glory,

Cindy Shaffer

CAAS UPDATE

A $100,000 Trustee Scholarship was started in January 2014. In April 2015, the board voted to increase the amount to a $200,000 scholarship commitment. At the last meeting in August, the board finalized and formally committed to this increase. This is great news for the college and for future students.

The fall semester is off to a great start for the Dairy Science Club. We welcomed more than 25 new students to our first club meeting. The following week, club president Michelle Hartzell held a special session for the new members to learn about the club’s activities and events. This was followed by our welcome back picnic. In mid-September, more than 20 members assisted with the Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show in Harrisburg. About 600 animals were exhibited by youth from 42 counties. Club members assisted with check-in and coordinated the show on Saturday.

In October, the club will assist with the Prospective Student Open House. This event is designed for high school seniors to learn more about Penn State. These students will arrive on October 21 at the Snider Ag Arena and then attend workshops, tour campus, and visit with current students.

The Nittany Lion Fall Classic is rapidly approaching. Sale chair Jaylene Lesher and assistant Cara Trotter have been working hard to assemble a great lineup for this year’s sale scheduled for Saturday, November 14. Along with the Fall Classic, the club is preparing for the annual holiday cheesebox sale under the leadership of Luke Trice and Joy Beam.

This past summer, club members traveled to Orlando for the ADSA Student Affiliate Division meetings. While in Florida, they toured SeaWorld and visited with students from across the nation. The club earned first place in yearbook, first in website, and third in scrapbook. For the third consecutive year, Penn State was named Outstanding Chapter. The quiz bowl team of Isaac Haagen, Amy Kraus, Jaylene Lesher and Kyle Sollenberger placed first, and Isaac Haagen was named the ADSA-SAD Outstanding Student Member.

Our club looks forward to intramural sports, the club member tour and other fall events. If you have any questions, please contact Michelle Hartzell at mch5302@psu.edu.
